Gennadi Gerasimov—The Voice of the Soviet Union To Deliver the Sherr Lecture Wednesday, April 18

The Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies will hold its annual lecture, made possible by a generous grant from Mr. & Mrs. Abraham I. Sherr, on Wednesday evening, April 18, 1990. The Sherr Institute is pleased to present The Honorable Gennadi Gerasimov, the chief of information for the Soviet Foreign Ministry, as its guest speaker.

Mr. Gerasimov holds the following official positions within the Soviet Union. He is the:

- Chief Spokesman for Chairman Mikhail Gorbachev
- Chief Press Secretary for the USSR Ministries of both Foreign Affairs and Defense
- Ambassador Plenipotentiary and Extraordinaire for the USSR.

Gennadi Gerasimov possesses firsthand and intensive working knowledge of the Soviet governmental agencies which will affect future relationships with the U.S. He will candidly discuss with us:

- The current status of Soviet Jewry

- The present successes and weaknesses of glasnost and perestroika

- What guarantees does the USSR offer to American businesses who may want to invest in the USSR that perestroika will continue?

- How will American foreign policy have to change to meet its stated objective to cooperate with glasnost and perestroika?

Mr. Gerasimov began his 30 year career in foreign affairs as a journalist for Trud (Labor) and moved on to become an editor for both New Times and World Marxist Review in Moscow. He continued his work in foreign affairs as a diplomatic correspondent for the Novosti Press Agency.

This is Mr. Gerasimov's only appearance at a Jewish institution in the U.S.

So, save the date! Plan to attend this historic event at Park Avenue Synagogue. You are encouraged to come early for best seating. A festive reception, also sponsored by the Sherrs, will follow.

From The Rabbi's Desk

I recently read an interesting and moving article in Newsweek by Salman Rushdie. Rushdie, if you'll recall, is the writer who caused so much trouble last year with his book, The Satanic Verses. He was sentenced to death, a sentence which is still in effect, and the protests which revolved around the novel caused the deaths of 13 people. Rushdie describes very poignantly the ordeal forced upon him, how he has been left in nearly total isolation, with only the company of armed guards. He also makes a stirring defense of his novel and of the importance of religious dissent. He writes that charges of blasphemy and heresy have always been used by fundamentalists to stifle and occasionally murder religious opponents.

Unfortunately, most religions exhibit, at some point or another, a dark side which expresses itself in fundamentalist intolerance. Judaism has often been the victim of this darkness. Jews have been one of history's most common victims of religious persecution. One of the great advantages of Conservative Judaism is its rejection of fundamentalism of all kinds.

Purim, the holiday we're about to celebrate, is a rejection of this kind of intolerant hatred. It glorifies a victory over that dark side of faith which insists on killing those who believe differently. One of its messages is that religions can and should live together without threats of violence and intimidation. Purim, in many ways, is a joyous holiday, a holiday of singing, dancing, and carrying on. But it carries with it a crucial message. It's a message Salman Rushdie has suffered greatly to bring out.

New Parokhet For Appleman Chapel Ark

To express their love of Park Avenue Synagogue, Leon and Susan Heller commissioned the artist Efrem Weitzman to design a parokhet, a fabric covering, for the Ark in the Appleman Chapel.

The religious significance of a parokhet is to adorn and beautify the Ark in which Torahs are kept, and, thus, to signify the importance of Torah, that it should be surrounded by beautiful objects.

The artist, Efrem Weitzman, has been creating works of art for synagogue interiors since 1960 and his works are to be found in synagogues all over the U.S. Although he began as a designer of stained glass windows, he now executes all elements of sanctuaries: Arks, memorahs, and ritual continuity consisting of windows, parokhet, and windows." The fabric chosen for its transparency was silk, with color dyes of the brilliance of stained glass. He was fortunate to discover color dyes which met that requirement.

"In terms of the imagery" he "felt the need to make the parokhet's graphics share the same simplicity as the forms in the Gottlieb windows. The inspiration for the design was drawn from tradition, the common practice of showing the Tablets of the Law, the Ten Commandments, in conjunction with the Ark. It was the inspiration of the Hellers to use a 6th century version of the Hebrew letters, Aleph to Yod, that usually indicate the Ten Commandments. This gave a familiar image a fresh look. To complete the image," the artist "surrounded the tablets with the purest symbols of nature -symbols of the stars, sun, moon, water and earth."

Sisterhood To Co-Sponsor Sherr Institute Course

The Sisterhood of Park Avenue Synagogue will co-sponsor with the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies a course on "The Myth and Reality of Judaism" to be given by Rabbi David Lincoln on three Tuesday mornings, March 6, 13, and April 3 at 10:30 to 11:45 a.m. This course will explore the myths which have evolved in daily life which are a misunderstanding of the Jewish tradition. The three lectures will be based on the paperback book by the same title by Rabbi Simon Glustrom. The book is available for sale in the Sisterhood Gift Shop.

Mark your calendar now! Plan to attend this informative lecture series!

The Women's Evening Group To Host Israeli Music Program

On Monday, March 26th at 7:30 p.m., the Women's Evening Group of Park Avenue Synagogue will host a lecture-musical demonstration on "Contemporary Israeli Music and its Roots." This program will be presented by concert pianist, teacher, and lecturer Chaim Freiberg, member of the faculty of the Hebrew Arts School and Center on the West Side of Manhattan.

objects of all kinds using a wide range of materials. He is the recipient of a Fulbright and the Louis Comfort Tiffany Awards and has lectured and exhibited his work as well as taught courses at the School of Visual Arts, the New School, and Southern Methodist University.

According to Mr. Weitzman, the task of creating a parokhet for the Ark in the Appleman Chapel was a challenge. "Since the chapel space had been experienced by the congregation for many years," he felt he "needed to respect the congregation's experience of the space and create a work that would harmoniously enter the space as a member of a community of images."

The Hellers and the artist jointly decided that the curtain should be transparent. "This suggested that in becoming a source through which light was transmitted, that the parokhet should be a 'close cousin' to the stained glass windows." Thus, Mr. Weitzman "visualized the parokhet as a part of a visual

Passover Dietary Laws

Prohibited Foods

Prohibited foods include: leavened bread, cakes, biscuits, crackers, cereal, coffee with cereal derivatives in them, wheat, barley, oats, spelt, rye, and all liquids containing ingredients or flavors made from grain alcohol. In addition, most Ashkenazic authorities have added the following foods to the above list: rice, corn millet, legumes (beans, peas, peanuts; but string beans are permitted). Some Ashkenazic authorities permit, while others forbid the use of legumes in a form other than its natural state, for example, corn sweeteners, corn oil, soy oil, peanut oil. Sephardic authorities permit the use of all of the above. Consult the rabbi for guidance in the use of these products.

Permitted Foods

A. The following foods require no kosher le Pesah label if purchased prior to Pesah: unopened packages or containers of natural coffee (without cereal additives), sugar, pure tea, salt, pepper, natural spices, fruit juices with no additives (frozen, canned, or bottled), frozen (uncooked) vegetables (for legumes see above), milk, butter, cottage cheese, cream cheese, tuna in water (no oil added), frozen (uncooked) fruit (with no additives), baking soda.

B. The following foods require no kosher le Pesah label if purchased either before or during Pesah: fresh fruits and vegetables (except for legumes above), eggs, fresh fish and fresh meat.

C. The following foods require a kosher le Pesah label if purchased either before or during Pesah: All baked products (matzah, cakes, matzah flour, farfel, matzah meal, and any products containing matzah), wine, vinegar, liquor, oils, dried fruits, candy, chocolate flavored milk, ice cream, yogurt, and soda.

D. The following foods require a kosher le Pesah label if purchased during Pesah: Processed foods (canned, frozen, or bottled): milk, butter, juices, vegetables, fruit, milk products, spices, coffee, tea, and fish, as well as all foods listed in category C.

Detergents: If permitted during the year, powdered and liquid detergents do not require a kosher le Pesah label.

Medicine: Since hametz binders are used in many pills, the following guidelines should be followed: If the medicine is required for life sustaining therapy, it may be used on Pesah. If it is not for life sustaining therapy, some authorities permit, while others prohibit. Consult the rabbi. In all cases, capsules are preferable.

Kashering of Utensils

The process of kashering utensils depends on how the utensils are used. According to halakhah, leaven can be purged from a utensil by the same process in which it was absorbed in the utensil. Therefore, utensils used in cooking are kashered by boiling, those used in broiling are kashered by fire and heat, and those used only for cold food are kashered by rinsing.

A. Earthenware (china, pottery, etc.) may not be kashered. But fine translucent chinaware which has not been used for over a year may be used if scoured and cleaned in hot water.

B. Metal (wholly made of metal) used in fire (spit, broiler) must first be thoroughly scrubbed and cleansed and then made as hot as possible. Those used for cooking or eating (silverware, pots) must be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned and completely immersed in boiling water. Pots should have water boiled in them which will overflow the rim. The utensils should not be used for a period of at least 24 hours between the cleaning and the immersion in boiling water. Metal baking utensils cannot be kashered.

C. Oven and Ranges: Every part that comes in contact with food must be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned. Then, oven and range should be heated as hot as possible for a half hour. If there is a broil setting, use it. Self cleaning ovens should be scrubbed and cleaned and then put through the self-cleaning cycle. Continuous cleaning ovens must be kashered in the same manner as regular ovens. Microwave ovens, which do not cook the food by means of heat, should be cleaned and then a cup of water should be placed in it. Then the oven should be turned on until the water disappears. A microwave oven that has a browning element cannot be kashered.

D. Glassware: Authorities disagree as to the method for kashering drinking utensils. One opinion requires soaking in water for three days, changing the water every 24 hours, while the other opinion requires only a thorough scrubbing before Pesah or putting it through a dishwasher.

E. Dishwasher: After not using the machine for a period of 24 hours, a full cycle with detergent should be run.

F. Electrical Appliances: If the parts that come into contact with hametz are removable, they can be kashered in the appropriate way (if metal, follow the rules for metal utensils). If the parts are not removable, the appliance cannot be kashered. (All exposed parts should be thoroughly cleaned.)

G. Tables, closets and counters: If used with hametz, they should be thoroughly cleaned and covered, and then they may be used.

H. Kitchen sink: A metal sink can be kashered by a thorough cleaning and by pouring boiling water over it. A porcelain sink should be cleaned and a sink rack used. If, however, dishes are to be soaked in a porcelain sink, a dish basin must be used.

I. Hametz and non-Passover utensils: Non-Passover dishes, pots and hametz whose ownership has been transferred, should be separated, locked up or covered, and marked so as to prevent accidental use.

A Kosher and Happy Passover!

Customs and Traditions of Judaism

When beginning a meal it is customary to wash one's hands and then recite "Ha-Motze" over bread. This blessing covers everything that we eat and drink during the meal. The bread should be dipped in salt. The reason for this is that the table represents the sacrificial altar and the food the offering. It is written in Leviticus: "With all thine offerings thou shalt offer salt." (Lev. 2:13) Also, bread and salt are the "staff of life."

The rabbis explain that the Amidah or Standing Prayer on Shabbat only contains seven blessings, whereas on weekdays there are nineteen blessings. Among the reasons given are not to burden the congregation with an overly long service and since The Shabbat is meant for joyful communion with God, all blessings that refer to guilt, tribulation, want, or sorrow are omitted.

Religious School—Registration Alert

Since the number of students and the needs of our school community are growing, we are requesting that registrations for the 1990-1991 school year be submitted to the school office by March 15th of this year. Students currently in the school are required to pre-register. Applications for them will be mailed to their homes. New registrants should contact the school office for application forms. All applications are to be accompanied by a non-refundable holding deposit.

Your cooperation will help us to better service our students by enabling us to hire the needed number of school personnel and to distribute the student body properly.

High School Tour to Spain and Morocco

The Park Avenue Synagogue High School will be leading a study tour to Spain and Morocco during the last two weeks in March.

1992 will mark the 500th anniversary of the expulsion of the Jews from Spain. This Heritage Tour has been planned in anticipation of that event. Students who will participate in this tour are currently enrolled in a high school curriculum dealing with the history of the Jews in Spain and the changes occurring in contemporary Europe.

If you are interested in sponsoring one of the students in this program, please call Dr. Straus in the synagogue school office.
